Abstract. The article analyzes the social and economic situation in the municipality, which is a single-industry town. Many current problems of single-industry towns have been revealed in Krasnoturyinsk: low birth rate with a high level of mortality and migration; lower incomes of the population in comparison with the regional average; high unemployment and low level of entrepreneurial activity. Statistical data are analyzed which are characterizing these problems. At the same time, it was revealed that since last year the town Krasnoturyinsk was included in the development program for TACED (Territory of advanced social and economic development in the Russian Federation). The primary positive results of the program are analyzed for 2016. The ways of solving the identified socio-economic problems are outlined based on foreign experience and prospects for improving the socio-economic and demographic situation in the municipality. The article may be of interest to specialists in the field of regional economy, administrations of municipalities, students and graduate students in economic areas.

Keywords: single-industry town; territory of social and economic development; demographic problems in single-industry towns; income of the population; development of single-industry towns.
